

Creditcoin on FLATLAY®

The only token-based affiliate network for influencers & brands in the world.

Competitive Network Advantages

Creditcoin (CCOIN) compliments a solid business model with patent-pending features to make mainstream adoption of the cryptocurrency with P2P, affiliate & content driven marketplaces & retailers.

Creditcoin's potential behind mainstream network adoption is supported by the networks roadmap of incorporating power retailers, marketplaces & sales channels - Shopify, Magento, Amazon, Instagram, WeChat, etc..

Flatlay Rewards System incorporates a dashboard for brand workflow management on promotional campaigns with affiliate incentives, ensuring consistent reward payouts are done in CCOIN to re-contribute back to the pool.

Largest potential behind the adoption of CCOIN will occur as more platforms, publishers and marketplaces adopt its usage. The Flatlay marketplace and Flatlay Interactive Cards shared across web & social aid in contributions made to the CCOIN pool while increasing adoption.

Influencer campaigns can be published using Flatlay due to its attribution technology with a potential to claim a significant amount of the hyper growing segment that influencer content marketing focuses on. The market spend for social commerce and influencer marketing is anticipated to be +$50B USD in the US and nearly $1T USD globally by 2018.

In comparison to other token offerings, Flatlay is a viable platform with an established community of over 10k content creators, +5k brands & hundreds of retail marketplaces and premium publishers providing immediate value with the adoption of CCOIN's usage.

The more contributed to the Flatlay ICO, the more incentives we're able to provide its existing community of influential content creators & brands for promotional marketing. This supports the ignition of the platforms viral growth with its combined social universe of more than +100mm followers & fans.

Creditcoin's mission to support the global democratization of ecommerce. The team is focused on making monetization accessible to anyone by removing restrictions inhibiting global collaboration. The blockchain enables content creators, brands & publishers to interact securely without restrictions versus the deprecated infrastructures & legacy regulations in place today.

Join us as we begin the new era of user generated commerce.

Business Summary

FLATLAY is a social marketplace bridging content creators with brands on promotions. The tools enable users to upload #Flatlay posts, tagged to curated collections sharable everywhere using publishing apps, website & gifs. Users earn on purchases made & influenced via collections & posts. The platform provides direct to consumer access with the publishing tools while brands and marketers are equipped with the FLATLAY Connect portal. Within the portal, brands upload products & offers with the ability to hire content creators while tracking campaigns. The marketplace provides audience segmentation & targeting across all social channels while partnering with influencer platforms to amplify reach on paid campaigns with a restful API.

Problem

Brands have many barriers when looking for cost effective, direct to consumer market awareness while content creators lack monetization tools across social.

Solution

FLATLAY helps users build, share and monetize product related content.
